The Turkey Festival Provides

To many, the annual Tremont Turkey Festival signals the start of summer and is known for the food, family time, and community fun. But what is not known by many is this: The Turkey Festival is a huge fundraiser. Since 1967, the almost $2 million in profits from the festival have been invested right back into our community to make Tremont the vital, attractive place that it is.

Why did you choose Tremont for your home? If you were born here, why did you stay? Look around. See the attractive pool facility, the busy baseball fields, and the improvements to Sampson Street. There are two beautiful parks to enjoy. Note the new Community Center, the landscaped Tiber, the Tremont Veterans Memorial. All you see and much you don't see we owe to the Turkey Festival. That is how important the festival is to our town.

Tremont Betterment Association (TBA) is the organizing committee for our festival. It is a committee made up of past Turkey Festival chairman and is responsible for setting festival budgets and policies. You may wonder...how do the proceeds get distributed? Once a year the committee receives grant requests from the community to distribute the prior year's festival proceeds. You can always find the list of entities that receive money from the last festival on turkeyfestival.com under the “about” tab. The list of projects and improvements to Tremont that have been made possible by our annual festival is very long and contributes to making our small town a desirable place to call home. Without the money raised by the festivals over the years, the projects referenced above and the list of improvements listed below (and many more) would not be possible.

Funds have been provided towards:

- The Tremont Lions Club – Street light Christmas decorations, AV equipment for groups to use at the Community Center
- Tremont Rescue 702 - ambulance
- Winning Communities – Welcome to Tremont signs
- Tremont In-Touch – After Prom
- The Tremont Museum - Funds to help in restoring the old waterworks building into an Agriculture Heritage Museum
- Tremont Boy Scouts – future shelter at the Forest Park Foundation Property intersection of Springfield Road and State Route 9, Eagle Scout projects
- Flags and replacement flags for the Tiber project
- The dugouts and lights for the City Park
- Cullinan Park and improvements there
- Tremont Pool – Money is set aside each year for maintenance and improvements

You can see the founding members of the early Turkey festivals had the future of Tremont in mind when they committed their time to this group community effort.

This year’s Tremont Turkey Festival will be June 11-14. It will be the festival’s 60 year celebration!
